

Well Drillers License Renewal Instructions

South Dakota Water Law requires every well driller to have a current South Dakota driller's license before performing or contracting to perform any well drilling work. Enclosed is an application form to renew your license. This form needs to be completed, signed by each license representative, and returned to this office with the fee postmarked on or before January 31 of the year for which you are renewing. The filing fee is based on the residency of the license representative(s) -- $200.00 for South Dakota resident(s) and $300.00 for nonresident(s). You are a resident if your primary residence is located in South Dakota and you have not claimed residency in any other state within ninety days of filing this application.

The application form must be returned and a license issued before doing any drilling work during the year for which you are renewing. Renewals postmarked after January 31 of the year for which you wish to renew will be returned, and the applicant will have to comply with the requirements for new applications.

South Dakota Codified Law (SDCL 46-6-11) requires the well driller to file a well construction report within 30 days of well completion. Prior to your license being renewed, the records of well construction need to be submitted for ALL wells constructed during the year for which you were licensed. The well construction reports must be complete and accurate or the reports will be returned. If you have not drilled any wells, please indicate this on the renewal form.

If your company needs to add a new license representative, please contact the Water Rights Program for the information, forms, and exam for a new applicant.

If you have questions, please contact the Water Rights Program at (605) 773-3352.
